

Anko AS has acquired Parker Maritime AS and continue operations as Anko Maritime AS.

We are happy to announce that Anko AS has purchased 100% of the shares in Parker Maritime AS. The operations will continue as Anko Maritime AS.

Anko AS was founded in 1975 by personnel from Bloms Oppmåling. Blom Maritime started operations in Stavanger in the early 1970'ties and was purchased by Parker Hannifin Corp in 2008.

"With today's announcement we have gone full circle as we once again are one organization", says Stian Lomeland (CFO, Anko AS).

Anko will be a sizable player within the survey discipline. After the acquisition, Anko has 75 employees and a total sale of MNOK 85 (2018 est.)

"We have unsurpassed collective competencies and history of serving the Oil & Gas, Maritime and Offshore Wind sectors within dimensional control onshore, offshore and subsea", says Jan Helge Due (Dept. manager Stavanger).

"Joining forces makes our offering stronger and more complete for our clients. It also makes Anko Maritime AS a great place to work, develop and grow as a survey engineer. We will have more to offer both in regard to interesting projects, as well as wider exposure to new sectors and survey methods."

For further information on the acquisition please contact Jan Helge Due (dept. manager) (cell: +47 454 11 362) or Roar Aasvang (Chairman) (cell:+47 913 20 493)

Anko AS / Anko Bluepix AS / Anko Maritime AS

- The service portfolio and business location of Anko AS, Anko Bluepix AS and Parker Maritime will be merged into one common offering and location
- The combined entity will continue with a major presence in Stavanger Norway. In addition, Anko AS has offices in Oslo, Bergen, Trondheim and Harstad Norway.
- Anko AS has a significant service offering in addition to the market segments currently served by Parker Maritime - Oil & Gas, Offshore and Renewables. For more information please see: www.anko.no/services

